Data Destruction

Disposal of records must maintain the confidentiality of the information contained in the records and avoid accidental loss or disclosure of the contents of the records.

Client files – every 6 months a query will be run from the database to identify clients that have been inactive for 18 months or more. These records will be marked inactive on the database. Their manual files will remain in the locked filing cabinet in the event of future contact (e.g. recurrence of diagnosis).

Where a client is deceased, they are marked as such on the database. Their manual file is retained for a period of 7 years, in line with best practice for therapists and counsellors.

Supporters files – supporters details will be destroyed following a period of 12 months of no contact. Consent forms will be shredded and disposed of in line with this policy.

Support Volunteers – files are marked inactive when a volunteer resigns. Their manual files will be destroyed on resignation.

Staff – files will be retained for a period of 7 years following the resignation or retirement of staff members in line with Employment Law.

The approved method of destruction is shredding, either internally or by a third party approved by the manager. Third party destruction certificate will be retained in the Data Protection folder.

Authorisation for destruction of records must be obtained from the Manager.

Records for destruction must be segregated from general waste.

A register of records destroyed is kept. This will contain a record title and a date of destruction and nothing further. Clients are informed of same in the initial client care letter.
